access to unique and bespoke opportunities that reflect the 'Wealthbeing by AIA' proposition, our belief that true wealth transcends mere financial wellness and encompasses holistic wellness.

Additionally, AIA Altitude Pinnacle members will be gifted an exclusively designed Silk Scarf designed by local designer and founder of Singapore lifestyle brand Onlewo, Mike Tay¹. The design on the scarf captures the dynamic blend of Singapore's heritage and progressive nature. The exquisite design mirrors AIA Singapore's commitment to evolve alongside customers as a trusted partner in health and wealth, a similar reflection Singapore's transformation in the past six decades into a metropolitan city.

AIA Altitude will also be partnering with the Michelin Guide to present Gastronomic Heritage, a booklet featuring prominent four family-owned restaurants and chefs from Singapore, each with a rich legacy spanning multiple generation. Pulling parallels between these eateries and one's wealth planning journey, Gastronomic Heritage will spotlight key values about legacy building and inheritance, spurring AIA Altitude members to curate conversations about growing and protecting their wealth holistically. They will also be treated to an experiential, specially curated dish or experience at these featured restaurants.

Other exclusive events for AIA Altitude members lined up for the year include wine and sake pairing sessions with featured brands from Gastronomic Heritage, exclusive SG60 National Day celebration at the AIA Wealth Centre overseeing the view of Padang, a trip to local Gin distillery Brass Lion, paired with a hands-on experience to craft an exclusive bottle of Gin infused with familiar local flavours, and more.

Beyond leisure and enjoyment, these events will also incorporate insightful business topics, ranging from investment strategies and legacy planning to wealth enhancement, empowering AIA Altitude members to achieve holistic success in both their personal and professional lives.

AIA strengthens community bonds through increased focus on CSR Initiatives

AIA Singapore is dedicating the year to giving back to the community through a series of CSR initiatives, with AIA staff and insurance representatives participating in volunteer programmes to support those in need. Its adopted charities will also be invited to share about their mission and needs at various AIA office locations, encouraging employees and AIA insurance representatives to contribute meaningfully. This year, we will also recognise and celebrate the efforts of "AIA Connecting Lives" volunteers who dedicate their time to serving the community.

Additionally, as part of AIA Singapore's sponsorship of Mandai Rainforest Wild Asia, special edition tapir plushies will be available for sale with all proceeds going to the AIA Better Lives Fund.

"SG60 is not just a time for celebration but also a moment of reflection on our shared values and goals as Singaporeans. This year, as we embrace 'Building Our Singapore Together,' we recognise that each of us has a role to play in supporting one another and shaping a stronger, more resilient nation," said Irma.
